REV. DAVIS WILL FIGHT ANY SUIT

Wife Tells the Story of a Hard Life in New York--Why She Went on the Stage.

"It was either stage or starvation, and I chose stage. It was not the factiousness of a theatrical career that lured me to the footlights; it was a case of necessity. It is because I am compelled to support myself that I shall divorce my husband and return to the stage."

Such was the statement made this morning to a reporter of the Tribune by the beautiful wife of the Rev. Edwards Davis. Mrs. Davis, two years ago, was Miss Alta Kingore, the accomplished daughter of M. H. Kingore, the San Francisco attorney, and the leading soprano of the Central Christian Church choir. Davis at that time was the pastor of the church. Their marriage was a sudden one and created not a little surprise among the members of the congregation. Soon afterward they went to New York, where the sensational divine had a rather meteoric career as floor walker, newspaper man and actor. With all his versatility Mrs. Davis claims that he was not able to support her and she was forced to play leads in a stock company to earn her daily bread.

Mrs. Davis is a beauty of the brunette type, with luxuriant masses of wavy dark hair and a clear olive complexion. But her principal charm are her eyes, which, "like twin gray stars," seem to be a reflection of her very soul. And how these eyes snapped this morning when she denied the statements that her clerical spouse had ever beaten her.

DAVIS A GENTLEMAN.
"Cader—Mr. Davis—is a perfect gentleman," she said this morning. "The statement that he ever beat me or ever threw a soap dish at my head is an unqualified falsehood. I have never seen him do an ungentlemanly act, and I do not want anything said that would reflect on his character. If he had known anything about management he would never have left the church here. The last I heard of him he said he was going to preach the gospel and I believe that he will eventually make a very successful minister. I think he will drop the sensational methods which he employed while in the pulpit here, and as he grows older, he will settle down to conventional forms."

"I think I know more about Mr. Davis than almost anyone else and I know that he never was ambitious to become an actor. When we went to New York he had a children's game, a sort of war puzzle, which he had invented and it was his intention to place it on the market. The affair was not a success, however, and, naturally he had to seek other means of support. He was unable to support me, and when I received an offer to go on the stage, I accepted it."

THE FAYNE-MOORE AFFAIR.
While Rev. Davis was preaching in this city, he made frequent lecturing tours to neighboring States, and while in Oregon on one of these trips, he met the notorious Fayne Moore. This was before her marriage to "Moore, the badger." She and Davis fell in love with one another and when he returned to Oakland their engagement was announced. It was of short duration, however, and shortly afterward she married Moore. While Davis and his wife were in New York, the Moores were arrested and Davis was sent by the New York World to interview Mrs. Moore in the toms. The result of that interview, in which the preacher-reporter described his sensations in meeting his erstwhile sweetheart in so strange a place was one of the many sensations for which he has been responsible and it was republished throughout the English speaking world. It was rumored that the interview was the first cause of trouble between Davis and his wife, but this the latter denies. Moore, by the way, was sent to Sing Sing for twenty years and his wife escaped punishment only after she had been tried twice.

WAS NOT JEALOUS.
"I was with Mr. Davis in New York at the time he interviewed Mrs. Fayne

COLSON FIRED THE FIRST SHOT.

Testimony in the Trial of the Kentucky Colonel.

FRANKFORT, Ky., April 18.—The taking of testimony in the trial of Colonel Scott and L. W. Demaree, commenced

Moore," said Mrs. Davis, "but that has no bearing on the present case. I don't think that I was asked to give my approval of the interview, but I did not object to it. Jealousy has nothing to do with my suit for divorce, but if I cannot secure a divorce for non-support I will have to bring other charges. I could not charge desertion because I left New York before he did."

When pressed for other reasons for divorcing him, Mrs. Davis hesitated and finally said: "You may say that there is no other woman in the case at present." "I played the leading part in 'The Prodigal Father,'" continued Mrs. Davis, "and last September I left New York with the company, continuing on the road till my health gave way, when I returned to my parents' home in this city. THE RUMOR THAT I WAS FRIENDLY WITH ANY OF THE MALE MEMBERS OF THE COMPANY OR THAT ONE DAVIS WAS JEALOUS OF ANY ONE IS FALSE. There has never been any trouble of that kind between us, either here or in the East. I wish to repeat that it was not the love of a stage career that prompted me to adopt acting as a profession, but that it was a case of necessity, pure and simple."

"There is another rumor which I wish to deny. It is that I wished to establish a residence in Marin county to quietly secure the divorce. I spent some time at my mother's cottage in Marin county, but it was simply for health and pleasure. I do not fear counter charges from Mr. Davis, and I therefore do not intend to go to some quiet place and secure a divorce by default."

PREACHING AND ACTING.
Mrs. Davis stoutly denies that her husband has become an actor, claiming that he could preach much better than he could act, but it is known that he was with Charles Coghlan's Company until the death of Coghlan and the company's disorganization. At present and for some time past Davis has been traveling with one of Frohman's plays and is said to have made quite a hit in one of the leading roles.
"The last time I heard from him," said Mrs. Davis, "he had no intention of going on the stage. That, by the way, was quite a while ago and he was then in New York. He said then that he was going to preach the gospel."

Mrs. Davis has retained Attorney Thomas V. Cator to bring the suit for divorce, and Davis has employed an attorney in this city to defend it. In his letter to his attorney the ex-divine flatly denies that he at any time failed to support his wife, and says that he supplied her with all the funds he could and that his contributions were sufficient to support her.

WILL GO TO NEW YORK.
It had been arranged by Mrs. Davis to go to New York this evening, but the publication of her contemplated divorce has caused her to change her plans.

"So many things have arisen," she said, "since the publication of the fact that I was to bring suit for divorce in last evening's TRIBUNE that I will be delayed for several days and perhaps a week. I will go to New York to join my company, and next year I will be seen in California. I have no intention of going into vaudeville, but will stay with legitimate drama."

This latest sensation in the life of the Rev. Davis, "word painter," "poet preacher" and realist, has caused a great deal of talk among all circles in this city, and his answer to his wife's charges is eagerly awaited.

Mr. Davis' friends stoutly assert that his wife caused all the trouble and that when she sues for a divorce she will be fought to a finish. It is stated that Mrs. Davis has a way of disappearing for days at a time, thus giving great annoyance to her family.

Funeral of Albert Miller Held This Afternoon.

Simple Services Conducted at the Family Residence.

Long before 1:30 o'clock this afternoon, the hour set for the funeral of the late Albert Miller, the spacious hall and parlors of the Miller home at Fourteenth and Union streets were thronged with weeping and sorrowing friends of the deceased. When the ministers arrived it was impossible for many to secure admission to the house owing to the large number who had already been admitted.

A large proportion of those in attendance were friends from San Francisco. Despite the fact that no flowers were expected there were a great many floral offerings and the rooms had been previously decorated with wreaths of Easter lilies and evergreens.

Over the casket, which was placed in the rear parlor, was a pall of Easter lilies and similar completely covering it. The beautiful floral tributes were sent by the many friends of the bereaved family and they bore silent witness to the love and high esteem in which Mr. Miller was universally held by all who knew him.

EARL RUSSELL IS A BIGAMIST.

Married a Nevada Girl Without Getting a Divorce.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire. LONDON, April 18.—The cable announcement in the marriage columns of "Times" this morning of Earl Russell to Miss Cook, at Reno, Nev., April 15th, has created a sensation here, as it appears that Earl Russell, according to the English law, is still married to the first Countess Russell, who is now performing at the Tivoli Music

The Star thinks the announcement, which also appeared in this morning's Standard, may be a hoax, for it says by the English law, he is still married to the first Countess Russell, who is now performing at the Tivoli Music. The Star thinks the announcement, which also appeared in this morning's Standard, may be a hoax, for it says by the English law, he is still married to the first Countess Russell, who is now performing at the Tivoli Music.

The Westminster Gazette suggests Earl Russell may have secretly secured an American divorce, but it is pointed out that this would not save him from the penalties of the English courts. When the Countess Russell was interviewed this afternoon she said she had heard nothing from him. She added: "When I saw the news the blow was terrible. It is a terrible blow to me. I am a widow. It is terrible. If it were true, that a man can go to another country and get married after the courts of this country have decided against him, it is quite untrue to say that Earl Russell obtained a judicial separation. When the House of Lords heard the case it was decided against him."

Lady Scott said she and her daughter knew the Earl had been in America about a year, but they had heard nothing from him. She added: "Lady Russell has placed the matter in the hands of her solicitor, and is not at all inclined to resign herself to the acceptance of her noble husband's family motto, which is 'What will be will be.'"

RENO, April 18.—A marriage license was issued to John Francis Stanley Russell and Mollie Cooke in this city Saturday night. They stopped at the Riverside Hotel Saturday night and were married Sunday by Judge Benjamin Currier. They left Sunday night for the East, their destination being unknown. Mollie Cooke's son, a young man of 23, was with the couple. They came to Reno from Glenbrook, Nevada, a small summer resort on the shores of Lake Tahoe.

NAVAL BILL IN HOUSE

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire. WASHINGTON, April 18.—The House today resumed the consideration of the naval appropriation bill. General debate was had and the bill was read for debate under the five-minute rule. Mr. Kitchen, a member of the Naval Committee, made a point of order against the provision in the bill appropriating $500,000 to be expended under the direction of the President to meet unforeseen contingencies. Mr. Foss argued that the appropriation was in order for the general provision for the maintenance of the navy.

Ask Higher Wages.
Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire. PHILADELPHIA, April 18.—The power loom weavers of Philadelphia, after working under an old scale of prices for five years, have asked the manufacturers for a 7 per cent. advance in wages. It is thought the demand will be granted, because at the present time the weavers can only make $10 to $11 a week, working full time.

Where is W. B. Woodward, ex-City Councilman of Minneapolis and general business man of Oakland?

That is the question his creditors are asking. Where is he? Bill collectors, detectives, reporters, note holders, merchants and servants are all on the trail of the ex-City Councilman of Minneapolis. They want their money.

This is not "steamer" day with Mr. W. Woodward. That is to say, he is not paying any bills.

There is a Sheriff's lock on the door of Woodward's carriage store at 310 San Pablo avenue. There is an attachment on the property and there is a whole lot of trouble in store for Mr. Woodward if he is caught.

He has been acting as agent for Baker & Hamilton and Studebaker Brothers of San Francisco. These gentlemen are now on his trail because they want an accounting of the property he handled for them.

Woodward has been living at 1416 Grove street in this city. A reporter called at the residence this afternoon and gained the information that Woodward is "away in the country and that it is not known when he will return."

Woodward is said to have left his creditors in the lurch for $5,000. Apparently there is not the slightest chance for them to get their money.

He was known as a very clever talker and was an adept at getting men to accept his notes. There is a trail of his notes all over town.

SUDDEN DEATH OF MRS. J. MASSIE.

While turning the leaves of the Strand Magazine last evening Mrs. Mary E. Massie closed her eyes and entered into the sleep that knows no awakening. The end was as peaceful as it was sudden, not even a gasp nor a sigh escaping her.

Mrs. Massie had been ill for about two weeks and had been confined to her bed when she was found dead. She was in the habit of sitting up in bed when she was well, and reading, and it was while thus engaged last night that she died.

It was shortly after 10 o'clock when her son, John A. Massie, passed her door and, seeing a light through the transoms, stepped into the room. His mother lay back on the pillows with her eyes closed, and a deadly coldness about her face. When she did not answer he laid his hand on her head. He was horrified to find that she was cold in death.

After vainly trying to arouse her Massie hurried to the telephone and summoned Mrs. Muller and Rheinhart, but when the physicians arrived they pronounced her dead. In the meantime the son had tried without success to revive Mrs. Massie with applications of alcohol and electricity from a galvanic battery.

The only one who was present at the time of death was Mrs. Massie's 5-year-old nephew, who was lying awake in his crib watching her. He says she laid her head back on the pillows and closed her eyes as if she were about to go to sleep. Shortly afterward young Massie entered the room.

Mrs. Massie had been a sufferer from heart failure for several years, and had formerly been attended by Dr. D. D. Crowley. He, however, had not seen her for about a year. Two weeks ago she was taken ill, but her malady was thought to be only a slight cold and she did not seek medical aid.

Deceased was a native of Hamilton, Ontario, Canada, where she was born fifty-two years ago. For twenty-five years she had been a resident of Oakland, and she had acquired a large circle of friends who join with the family in mourning her loss. She was the wife of John Massie, physicians arrived they pronounced her dead. In the meantime the son had tried without success to revive Mrs. Massie with applications of alcohol and electricity from a galvanic battery.

HOW BROTHERS LOVE EACH OTHER.

More of the animosity which exists between the Kendall brothers, who are owners and officers in the Pacific Coast Lumber and Mill Company, was revealed in court today.

Alpheus accused his brother of having abstracted specifications of a building in order to help W. W. Anderson win his last suit.

Today Noah made charges that Alpheus had been using materials taken from the company to build his home without charging himself for them. He further charged that his brother was charging the materials to a fictitious person whose name appeared on the company's books.

Alpheus had noticed from the books that the amount of money coming in did not correspond with the amount of materials sent out. It was owing to this discrepancy that he had found the materials were going. He had accused his brother of taking the materials and they had quarreled.

W. W. Anderson, who is suing Alpheus Kendall for payment for "extras" furnished in the building of the matter's new home, testified that the specifications which he had signed were not those as shown by the books. He had figured. It was intimated that the specifications had been changed to the advantage of Kendall. One item in the present specifications calling for 200 feet of fence was positive was not in the original specifications. The case is still on trial.

MAY OBTAIN A BIG CONTRACT. CARL BROWNE'S BOMBSHELL.

Americans Eager to Build a Railroad for Russia.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire. PHILADELPHIA, April 18.—E. F. Walker of this city and J. H. McCleary, of Richmond, Va., created consternation among the adherents of Wharton Barker of Pennsylvania when he strongly advocated Admiral Dewey as the head of the proposed national ticket "Barker."

The head of the ticket should be the popular idol of the people, Admiral George Dewey, with Wharton Barker or Ignatius Donnelly for Vice President. There was a show of stopping the speaker as he uttered these remarks, but Browne was permitted to continue.

"With such a ticket," declared he, "we will stand some show of knocking out both the tickets dominated by the money power and headed by President McKinley and that headed by William J. Frye. Silence marked the close of his address."

There were about 100 Populists at the first session. After deciding to select twenty-five delegates to the Cincinnati convention to be named later and disposing of some minor business, a recess was taken until afternoon.

GENERAL BULLER IS ROASTED.

London Papers Praise Roberts for His Strictures on British Commanders.

LONDON, April 18.—1:55 p. m.—Lord Roberts' criticisms of General Buller, General Warren and Colonel Thorneycroft continue topics of acute interest. All the afternoon papers comment at length on the strictures of the British Commander-in-Chief in South Africa taking the same lines as the morning papers, praising Lord Roberts for his frankness and speculating upon what the publication of the dispatches at the present moment portends.

Some of them maintain there is nothing left for General Buller but to resign. The St. James Gazette is particularly scathing. Referring to General Buller's report, it says:

"Never in the history of armies did it happen that Generals scribbled their confessions of failure and defeat, of useless deaths of men and of discredit to the flag in a manner which suggests so little of the gallantry and the noble spirit of the soldier as the slang language of the horseman and the gibberish of the smoking room in the evening."

The Globe declares that "a more pitiable record of indecision in plan and confusion of action has never been read," and adds that what little reputation General Buller had left has been scattered to the winds.

Practically no developments have been reported so far in today's South African cables. A dispatch from Warrenton, dated Tuesday, April 18th, says:

"Finding the Boers busy making new trenches we exploded Lydite shells, following these with the Maxim. The enemy's ambulances were afterwards observed on the spot."

From Veperer there is nothing later. The Boers' message of yesterday, and, presumably neither side has gained any particular advantage at any point in the theater of war since the last official dispatches were received.

WEPENER SITUATION.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire. PRETORIA, Tuesday, April 17.—The latest official reports from the Free State are to the effect that General Buller is still surrounding General Brabant (Dalgely's) forces, though the British forces are strongly entrenched in Bos' fashion, indicating that they are Coonals.

Commandant Frommann reports that he chased 400 troops across the river in the direction of Alwal North, capturing several prisoners. It is said that Bethulie bridge has been blown up.

CANADIANS OFFICERS

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire. OTTAWA, On, April 18.—The Imperial government has decided to give twenty-four out of the forty-four commissions to four delegates and four alternates to the National Republican Convention to officers and non-commissioned officers serving in South Africa. Six commissions will be given to Canadian gentlemen, and these with the fourteen, which have gone to the Royal Military

ENDORSE POLICY OF EXPANSION.

Vermont Republicans Stand by the President.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire. BURLINGTON, Vt., April 18.—The Republican State Convention for the selection of four delegates and four alternates to the National Republican Convention was held here today and resulted in the choice of General J. G. McCullough of Bennington, Lieutenant Governor Henry C. Bates of Edward Wells and L. M. Read as delegates. The delegation was not instructed.

The resolutions reaffirmed allegiance to "all the great historic principles for which our party has stood from its foundation as the consistent advocate and champion of the policy of expansion, of protection with such reciprocal relations with friendly nations as seem wise; favored the 'upbuilding and protection of the American merchant marine,' an adequate and constantly improving system of coast and harbor defenses, a firm, vigorous, dignified foreign policy, the reasonable regulation and restriction of immigration and a just and liberal administration of the pension laws."

The financial plank pronounces "strongly and heartily in favor of the maintenance of the single gold standard."

Conspicuously and recently acquired islands the platform says:

"We believe that this country should 'all the great historic principles for which our party has stood from its foundation as the consistent advocate and champion of the policy of expansion, of protection with such reciprocal relations with friendly nations as seem wise; favored the 'upbuilding and protection of the American merchant marine,' an adequate and constantly improving system of coast and harbor defenses, a firm, vigorous, dignified foreign policy, the reasonable regulation and restriction of immigration and a just and liberal administration of the pension laws."

BOERS ASK FOR AID.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire. CAPE TOWN, April 18.—The Boer governments are circulating the following manifesto to the Afrikaners throughout Cape Colony:

"We feel that our fate and the fate of the whole of Africa are at stake, and we appeal to you to stand and fight shoulder to shoulder with us. You cannot, you may not, allow the tyrant to extinguish forever your finest traits of character as a nation."

"With you on our side the issue cannot be doubtful. You must conquer. God grant that love for your country and your liberty and the noble virtues of men truly free may induce you to join us in the hour of our supreme struggle."

BOERS LOSE HEAVILY

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire. MASERU, April 17.—Colonel Dalgely's casualties since he has been besieged at Veperer have been twenty killed and 100 wounded. The Boer losses are reported to have been considerably heavier.

After the night attack on April 12th the dead were left on the field, where they still lie unburied.

There is a conflict of opinion among the leaders. Some want to attack again, while others refuse to do so. Desultory cannon firing and "sniping" continues.

The Caledon rising, which alarms the Boers, as it is now on both sides of the river, might be cut off if the stream was to become flooded.

RIOT AT A FUNERAL.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire. PARIS, April 18.—Memorial services in honor of the late General Collobie Marchais, killed while fighting against the British in South Africa, were held in Notre Dame Cathedral today, the cost being defrayed by public subscription. There was a large attendance, and the British in South Africa, were held in Notre Dame Cathedral today, the cost being defrayed by public subscription.

The building was specially decorated with flags and banners and colors. General Marchais, on leaving the cathedral at the conclusion of the ceremony, was loudly acclaimed, which evoked a counter-demonstration, resulting in the police charging across the square in front of the cathedral. The Anglo-phobe Deputy, M. Milleville, lent himself to a similar demonstration with a like result. A few arrests were made.

manfully accept and shoulder the increased duties and responsibilities that have come to it during the present administration, through the wish and free choice of the people concerned in the accession of the Hawaiian Islands, through the fortunes of war and as fruits of the glorious achievements of the American sailors and soldiers in the island possessions which have become ours by the terms of our treaty with Spain. So long as any of the inhabitants of any of those islands continue in a state of insurrection against the authority of the United States it is the duty of the Government to establish peace and tranquility there."

The resolutions conclude by endorsing the "wise, able and patriotic administration of our great President."

STUBBORN SULTAN.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire. CONSTANTINOPLE, April 17.—The Porte today replied to the third note of the collective powers on the subject of an increase of 8 per cent. in duty. The note announces the intention of the powers to adhere to the plan of increasing the duties on account of the bad condition of the Ottoman Empire.

The Embassadors have decided to address another note to the Porte again, stating the objections to such an increase without a previous understanding with the powers. The tenacity of the Porte threatens to have serious results.
